

Abstract

A method for the treatment and/or prophylaxis of pelvic pain, renal colic, biliary colic, functional dyspepsia, Barrett's metaplasia, dysphagia and pain associated therewith, in humans or non-human mammals, which method comprises the administration of an effective, non-toxic and pharmaceutically acceptable amount of a vanilloid receptor antagonist.